

Mentoring for Leadership Bulletin # 3 November 2020

Mentoring Inside your Auxiliary Business Meetings

There are many forms of mentoring during our meetings. The Podium Book is a good source to show our rituals and traditions. The Bylaws and its Revisions are the rules and principles that define our Auxiliary and should be shared with our members. Other forms of mentoring are found on the Online Auxiliary Academy and Handouts from the National Website Program Resources. The best form of learning our traditions are from the stories that are shared.

Again, I want to bring fun into Mentoring so here is another game to share with the members. While you are word searching, discuss the parts of the Auxiliary.

Mentoring is essential to good leadership. A leader knows when to listen, how to communicate, has empathy and integrity. With a strong relationship between a mentor and a leader can influence these leadership skills in any Auxiliary member. A good mentor can inspire, provide encouragement, and moral support.

Everyone has some type of mentoring skills. Share your experience whether it is volunteering, membership, Buddy Poppies, veteran support, how to run a meeting, patriotic, or youth activities. Remember to write your mentoring moments down on your Year-end Report.
