

MENTORING FOR LEADERSHIP

BULLETIN #5

With elections now in full swing for a NEW Auxiliary year that lies ahead, those stepping up to lead our organization need our full support. This does not matter at what level they have agreed to serve - we need to be there to assist.

Mentoring is a responsibility that we all have a part in and does not stop and change from year to year with new goals and program changes as a new year begins. Being a mentor continues your entire life, inside and outside of your home, family, work, church and the AUXILIARY. A few things to keep in mind:

- Be a R.O.C.K. Mentor.
- Make sure those around you feel welcome, safe and wanted at each of the meetings.
- Be patient in mentoring - we don't all learn at the same level or the same way.
- Ask questions of the person you are mentoring so that you are aware of how they feel and if the mentoring style you are using works for them.

- Make eye contact with each person you talk with and those you mentor.

EXAMPLE

Be the best example of what you can be as you mentor others. Think of this:

Am I conducting myself, mentoring and setting an example of what the Veteran I qualified my membership under would be proud of. I want the Veteran I qualified under to be proud they put their life on the line providing me with the opportunity to serve my country and this organization to the best of my ability.

Thank you for providing me the honor and privilege to serve as your mentoring chairman; my thoughts and prayers are with each of you as we complete this year and move on.

Loyally,

Marjorie Stetson

Mentoring Chairman
